Why HIRE through EOMS Inc.

1. EOMS Inc. will save your precious time:

Hiring procedure is one of the time- consuming task in a recruitment business. It cannot be done overnight as it involves the tedious process of posting the jobs, sorting hundreds if not thousands of CVs received, short-listing them etc. If you get professional help from our team then we can handle the recruitment process for you which will save your time and effort without compromising the quality of your needed talents.

EOMS Inc. will let you focus on your business, and allow us to handle all the works of recruitment that is first rate in the industry. In so doing, we will be able to narrow down your choices to selecting the best among the nominated candidates who are worthy of your interview and consideration. Most importantly, we pride ourselves to have pioneered to what we call as “post deployment monitoring” a system and mobile app that allows us to have up-to-date information of our candidates and their respective companies.

2. Innovative Solution through “PROJECT 360.”

Most importantly, we pride ourselves to have pioneered to what we call as “Project 360”, the first and most innovative business solution for the recruitment industry in the Philippines. It will enable the recruitment agencies to locate, monitor and reach out to their deployed workers overseas in order to answer for their needs. The said innovation is an ultimate partner for the company’s deployment monitoring as it is supported by a reliable system and mobile app that allows us to have up-to-date information of our candidates and their respective companies wherever they may be in the world.

Our credibility will also be yours as our goal is to make the lives of Filipinos working abroad meaningful by creating a community of safely deployed workers for the success and comfort of their families.

3. EOMS Inc. will give you the best

Job openings are usually paired to various applicants' skills and aptitudes but recruiting through EOMS INC will make your hiring experience even better with our methodical matching of job openings to the most suitable candidates on file.

We have a database of candidates where you can generate CVS depending on your demands. With vast experience in recruitment, we have established multifarious networks- may it be consultants, candidates, clients or collaborators and can be utilized to leverage as the key resources to connect with the right people. We are not only an option for job seekers but their recruitment company of choice.

4. Cost Efficient

Is it that costly to hire workers through recruitment agencies? Maybe, you should think again as it is one of the most convenient and efficient ways to get your best talent. These agencies usually subscribe to top job boards where they can advertise your demands and reach the most qualified candidates. Moreover, all the marketing and advertising expenses to promote the brands and convey the selling points of our employers also come in package for your benefit.

Not to mention, the peace of mind that you get to experience and the relationship you build along the way through our recruitment platform.

Let's create a positive future.

WHY PURSUE FILIPINO WORKERS?

We all know that most of foreign employers prefer Filipinos to assume various position in their companies as they possess the skill, right mindset, working attitude, perseverance and discipline needed in the workplace which is essential to their company's success.

We have here the list of some of the many qualities of Filipino workforce; namely:

QUALITY AND INTEGRITY- They take pride at what they do as a matter of tradition among Filipinos. IT is not surprising to see Filipinos considered as world-class talent in the field of Art, Music, Engineering, Construction, Teaching, Medicine, Computer's business and many others.

They demonstrate flexibility, adaptability, trainability and well-spirited attitude in the work place as key to companies' growth.

The quality of being honest in the workplace is quite common among Filipinos as the morale of principle are installed in them through the educational instruction and teachings of their families. Their strong family ties help them carry the tradition of being mindful of the value of morale uprightness in the community where they lived in.

POSITIVE ATTITUDE- More than extending their services, they are fond of delighting others with their inherent sense of humor, jovial moods and patience. They usually exceed the expectations because they put value in what they do, which will translate into quality work and productivity.

RESPONSIBILITY- The common reason for Filipinos why they choose to work abroad is the disparity in paycheck that they earn for their families. They always strive to be a good provider for their loved ones for the fulfillment of their dreams of better education and descent living for them. This promise of reward will make them perform even better and become more responsible of their tasks.

EXCELLENCE- Filipino's adaptability and eagerness to learn usually result to excellence. The years of influence from different cultures made them adaptive to their new environment. They are keen in learning new skills and their willingness to enchants their ability for self-improvement are ways of life for them. Excelling comes naturally to them as they enjoy the process of learning to do new things. No wonder we have one of the highest percentages of workers staying abroad either as immigrants or migrants.

POSITIVITY- Filipinos are adept at overcoming adversities in life. Despite all the challenges that they go through, they can still manage to smile and get up after a fall. Filipinos are compared to a bamboo which according to Dr. Felipe Jocano and we quote, "A Filipino is like a mythological bamboo. He sways valiantly with the winds of misfortune, only to rise unscathed when the tempest is over to meet the warmth of the morning sun."
